For immediate release

CollegeSource (CSI) has recently received questions about using third parties for assistance with redLantern Suite products. While we certainly understand the importance of receiving timely, cost-effective assistance, no other businesses or individuals have been authorized at this time to distribute CSI software or provide any functional or technical services for DARwin/u.achieve, u.select and u.direct.

Please bear in mind that only CSI staff can provide you with the most up-to-date and accurate information and services. Third party businesses or individuals have not been trained by CSI to provide service or certified to work on CSI products. Further, they do not have access to current product releases. The knowledge base of such individuals will certainly be incomplete and/or dated.

CSI does not guarantee the work of, and is not responsible for any problems resulting from utilizing third party businesses or individuals.

Also be aware that using third parties may violate your license agreement. Granting access to CSI software or documentation is a clear-cut violation of the license and subscription agreements. (Relevant passages have been excerpted on the following page.)

For all your training, installation and consulting needs, please contact sales@redlanternu.com.

Sincerely,

Jason Elwood

The following are excerpts from the standard CSI License Agreement used for all products. The paragraphs describe your responsibilities to maintain confidentiality and restrict access to all CSI software and documentation.

1) Restricted Use.

- a) Licensee acknowledges that the Product shall be used solely by Licensee for its own internal purposes at the Designated Location described above, and at no other location. Licensee shall permit the Product to be used only by Licensee's employees. The Licensee may reproduce software object code and related material for backup, archival or disaster recovery purposes only. All reproductions must display the CollegeSource copyright and proprietary rights notices.

2) Confidentiality.

- a) Licensee hereby acknowledges and agrees that the Product constitutes and contains valuable proprietary products and trade secrets of CollegeSource and/or its suppliers, embodying substantial creative efforts and confidential information, ideas, and expressions. Accordingly, Licensee shall treat (and take precautions to ensure that its employees treat) the Product as confidential in accordance with the confidentiality requirements and conditions set forth in this License Agreement.
- b) Unless required by law, Licensee shall not disclose or otherwise make Product source code or related material, the terms of this License Agreement, or other confidential materials or information of CollegeSource or its suppliers, available to anyone except its authorized employees for purposes related to the permitted use of the Product by Licensee. Licensee shall take all reasonable precautions to maintain the confidentiality of the Product and, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, shall take such precautions as shall be at least equivalent to those employed by Licensee by way of protection of its own confidential information.
- c) Licensee acknowledges that the unauthorized use, transfer or disclosure of the Product or copies thereof will: (1) substantially diminish the value to CollegeSource of the trade secrets and other proprietary interests that are the subject of this License Agreement; (2) render CollegeSource's remedy at law for such unauthorized use, disclosure or transfer inadequate; and (3) cause irreparable injury in a short period of time. If Licensee breaches any of its obligations with respect to the use or confidentiality of the Product, CollegeSource shall be entitled to equitable relief to protect its interests therein, including, but not limited to, preliminary and permanent injunctive relief.
- d) Licensee's obligations under this Section shall survive the termination of this License Agreement or of any license granted under this License Agreement for whatever reason.
